THURSDAY, AUGUST 21, 1873.

A Letter from George T. Downing.

The following is a letter addressed by Geo. T. Downing, of Washington, to the members of the Colored State Convention, recently held in Saratoga. It will be read with interest by colored and white republicans alike:

NEWPORT, August 4, 1873.

To the State Convention of Colored men to assemble at Saratoga on the 6th inst.

GENTLEMEN: Though I have lived in Rhode Island for a number of years, and believe that my field for greater usefulness in the future is in the South, yet I am a New Yorker in heart and sympathy, and therefore feel a special satisfaction in seeing my native state lead the van in legislation in the North, to protect by a civil rights law, the rights of a class which she in common with other states, has outraged.

We cannot over-estimate the weight and importance of having the large, wealthy, intelligent and influential state of New York, the Empire State of the Union, throw the weight of her great name in the just and constitutional direction she has in behalf of the outraged. It is, however, a needed influence, for the custom to despise the colored man because of his color, has taken such root in the mind of the white people of the nation that we need the moral prestige to which I allude to help destroy it. Those manifesting this feeling toward the colored man and his children cannot realize the painful and depressing emotions they are responsible for. Can they be so cruel as to persist therein, with no interest stimulating them?

The tendency of events and action had tend to fix more indelibly in our minds that our fellows are bound to respect them, and consequently for us to feel, even more sensitively, any denial thereof. Doting fathers look on their bright, intelligent, affectionate and reliant children with parents' minds impressed, that through a thousand agencies, the children they are watching and caring for are being daily taught that they are despised; and a maddening effect is produced. This is my feeling and I am concerned as to every movement calculated to effect reform, that will be educative and protective; therefore, I look to the assembling of the next Congress with much concern. It is true, I have not much doubt but that it will act as it should. President Grant will I am assured through his noble utterances, recommend our prayer in his next message. Congress will see that it is its interest to be just.

Still I have reasons for asserting that certain members will oppose action, that evasions will be interposed, among the most prominent of which will be the state right theory. It will be urged that action should be left with the states, that they are acting, let Congress hands off: this is evasive, and fallacious, it is dangerous, and insecure, it is not giving the fullest protection to the rights of a citizen, that may be given. It is the primary duty of a government to protect the rights of its subjects, to put their rights beyond peril. Without this virtue a government has not much essence.

No member of a class is safe in any local protection of his rights, so long as members of that class, because they are of it, may be outraged in their rights with impunity in any part of the land, besides he or she may travel and be subjected in their native land to indignities not endured in [illegible]. Hence, we want urged by your convention and by the colored people of the nation, and by your friends in Congress next winter in such a manner as shall assure it that the colored people are in earnest, the bold comprehensive, everywhere reaching constitutional and just civil rights bill proposed by the ever vigilant and true friend of equality and of the colored man, Charles Sumner.

Your obedient servant,

GEO. T. DOWNING.

Good Manners A Duty.

(By Henry Ward Beecher.)

Men often speak of good manners as an accomplishment. I speak of them as a duty. What then, are good manners? Such manners as the usages of society have recognized as being agreeable to men. Such manners as take away rudeness, and remit to the brute creation all coarseness. There are a great many who feel that good manners are effeminate. They have a feeling that rude bluntness is a great deal more manly than good manners. It is a great deal more beastly. But when men are crowded in communities, the art of living together is no small art. How to diminish friction; how to promote ease of intercourse; how to make every part of man's life contribute to the welfare and satisfaction of those around him; how to keep down offensive pride; how to abolish the raspings of selfishness from the intercourse of men; how to move among men inspired by various and conflicting motives, and yet not have collisions—this is the function of good manners.

That a man is a mechanic is no reason why he should not be a perfect gentleman. I affirm for every American citizen the right to be not simply a man, but a gentle-mannered man. I have seen men at the anvil who were as perfect gentlemen as men of books or men of society. I know no reason why a man who tans hides should not be a gentleman. I know no reason why a man who digs in the soil, a man who works in metals and woods; a man who builds, should not be a perfect gentleman. There is nothing in mechanical occupations which is incompatible with the highest courtesy. * * *

Not only is the violation of good manners inexcusable on ordinary grounds, but it is sinful. When, therefore, parents and guardians and teachers would inspire the young with a desire for the manners of good society it is not to be thought that they are accomplishments which may be accepted or rejected. Every man is bound to observe the laws of politeness. It is the expression of good will and kindness. It promotes both beauty in the man who possesses it, and happiness in those who are about him. It is a religious duty, and should be part of religious training.

There is a great deal of contempt expressed for what is called etiquette in society. Now and then there are elements of etiquette which perhaps might well be ridiculed; but in the main there is a just reason for all those customs which come under the head of etiquette. There is a reason which has regard to the facility of intercourse. There is a reason in the avoidance of offence. There is a reason in comfort and happiness. And no man can afford to violate these unwritten customs of etiquette who wishes to act as a Christian gentleman.

Many speak, also, of a tendency which is bred by our institutions—the want of veneration. There are various ways in which this want of veneration shows itself. We often hear that there is not the same respect shown for the aged that there used to be. We know that there is very little respect shown for magistrates and men in authority. This is partly due, I think, to the institutions under which we live. One of the unfortunate effects derived from the early stage of democratic training is the sense of personal sovereignty; the feeling that we stand on as high ground as anybody else. Under monarchical institutions men are taught to revere the great and glorious in government. The feeling of reverence does not prevail to any great extent among us. I discern a great lack in this respect. Children, nowadays, are brought up to be pert, to be saucy, to be almost without restraint.

They are brought up to have very little regard either for their parents or for their superiors. And, although there are a great many Christian households where children are rightly bred in this regard, it seems to me there has been a decay of that instruction which used to prevail, the tendency of which was to make children modest and respectful. We bring up our children to be old and smart and impertinent.

This courtesy, which carries with it respect; this testimony of veneration to the aged; this yielding oneself in a thousand little society rites for the sake of making others happy—oh, what brightness it gives to life! What adornment it gives to Christian character!

Special Notices.

Gout & Rheumatism. THE excruciating pains of GOUT and RHEUMATISM relieved in two hours and cured in a few days by the Celebrated English Medicine, BLAIR'S GOUT AND RHEUMATISM PILLS. They require neither attention nor confinement of any kind, and are certain to prevent the disease attacking any vital part. Prepared by PROUT & HARSANT, London, England. AND SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC, SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, Are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption. Sometimes medicines that will stop a cough will often occasion the death of the patient. It locks up the liver, stops the circulation of the blood; hemorrhage follows, and, in fact, clogging the action of the very organs that caused the cough.

Liver complaint and dyspepsia are the causes of two-thirds of the cases of consumption. Many are now complaining with a dull pain in the side, the bowels sometimes costive and sometimes too loose, tongue coated, pain in the shoulder blade, feeling sometimes very restless, and other times drowsy; the food that is taken lies heavily on the stomach, accompanied by acidity and belching of wind. These symptoms usually originate from a disordered condition of the stomach or a torpid liver. Persons so affected, if they take one or two heavy colds, and the cough in these cases be suddenly stopped, the lungs, liver and stomach clog, and remain torpid and inactive, and before the patient is aware of his situation, the lungs are a mass of sores, and ulcerated, and death is the inevitable result.

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup is an expectorant which does not contain any opium, nor anything calculated to check a cough suddenly.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic dissolves the food, mixes with the gastric juice of the stomach, digests easily, nourishes the system and creates a healthy circulation of the blood. When the bowels are costive, skin sallow, and the patient is of a bilious habit, Schenck's Mandrake Pills are required.

These medicines are prepared by Dr. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Northeast corner of Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, Pa., and for sale by GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., 38 Hanover street, Boston, and John F. Henry, 8 College Place, New York, Wholesale Agents. For Sale by Druggists generally.

FROM THE MOUNTAINS.

Aug. 18, 1873.

The top of Mount Washington is the goal to which all travellers in these highlands aspire. Nothing short of that would satisfy the humblest tourist. As a people we have been taught to aim high in all things, and never to be satisfied short of the loftiest attainments, and so, as Mt. Washington is higher than any other peak, and overlooks everything else in this topsy turvy country, all good citizens are bound to make the ascent. Pilgrimages to this place have been frequent ever since the existence of the the mountains was known. The weary traveller, staff in hand, used to pick his way through the forests and over the rocks, from base to summit, and though footsore and weary found abundant satisfaction in the exploit. Then came the bridle path, dim and tortuous, then a carriage road up the eastern side, where the steeps were less perilous, and at last the railway is built over the boldest rocks and precipices, and the ascent is made an easy thing. But alas for the triumph of civilization! Half of the glory of the occasion is destroyed. Men, and women, too, could and did feel proud to be able to say that they had climbed the mountains and looked off from the Tip Top in every direction until their eyes had fully feasted on the wonderful scene which stretches in all directions, and is as illimitable as the horizon itself. But now they can talk only of a ride in the cars, of a first class hotel, a good dinner, and a pleasant chat with fellow tourists.

While the change involves a serious loss in respect to the views afforded, there is no question as to the comforts gained. At no hotel in city or country are furnished better dinners, and in better style, than at the top of Mount Washington. Not a few families take rooms there for days, if not for weeks together, and more will probably do so as the merits of this "fashionable watering place" shall become more generally known. All honor to the men by whose enterprise such a railroad and such a hotel have been built, thus bringing these sublime beauties within reach, even of the "lame and the lazy."

Not a few people still persist in walking up the mountain and the number will probably increase rather than diminish. No man has seen the whole nor enjoyed all that there is for him until he has tried both ways. Most men will never walk but once, but they will always rejoice that they had nerve and muscle for the occasion and that they improved the opportunity.

I shall not attempt a description of this mountain, nor of the railway. It is enough to say that riding in the cars up a declivity so steep that you cannot stand on an ordinary car floor without sliding from end to end except by a vigorous holding on to the seats produces curious sensations. You look before you and see the rocky summit highly among the clouds with the narrow track set on end, and well believe what is told you, when informed that the name of the section is Jacob's Ladder. Verily if Jacob saw a ladder so nearly perpendicular as this and so long it is no wonder that only angels were able to tread its rounds. And then you look down, and a cold shiver runs over your frame as you calculate about how long it would take to slide down those two miles, and reach bottom, if the engine should break and the laws of gravitation remain in force. Not long surely.

Up, up we go. Three times the train stops to take in water and then the engine puffs away, and higher, still higher, we climb. Near the top we read as we pass, the inscription on a monument erected in memory of a young lady who perished here in years gone by, while trying to gain the summit. She had almost reached the object of her ambition, but the blinding snow and fierce winds separated her from her companions, and she died in sight of the house where friendly shelter was offered. And we are told that she is not the only one who has perished in making the ascent, which in olden times must have been very difficult.

The view from the summit of Mount Washington is grand beyond description. Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Canada, with their broad acres, their mountains, valleys and rivers are all before us. We look down upon the whole as upon a map, and are satisfied.

In the valley the weather today is warm and the air is still. Here the thermometer stands at 41, and the wind blows at the rate of 45 miles an hour. Yesterday, it is said, for awhile the rate was 100 miles an hour, whew! For the first time in our lives we look down upon the clouds, though some are yet over our heads. Everybody is covered with the thickest winter clothing and yet complain of their overcoats, shawls, and wraps. All are needed, and with them all one remains but a few moments out of doors at a time. Not far away is a ravine filled with snow and ice, as cold and chilly as in mid-winter—a fact which in itself affords an illustration of the nature of things in this altitude of more than 6,000 feet above the level of the sea.

The descent of the mountain makes one feel that the railroad is a great institution even more than the ascent. Every one sees by this time that the road is safe as well as convenient, and yet all have a feeling of relief when the bottom is reached. Our party is down and safely housed at the Fabyian, one of the largest and finest hotels in all the mountains. From this point the readers of the News may hear from us again.

September Magazines.

THE GALAXY for September contains a story by Lucy Hooper, entitled "Summer Days at Newport." It is a very affecting tale of love at first sight, a final "No" from a relentless father, a letter that was never posted, disappointment and despair at the trysting place, and drowning. The dates are 1859 and 1872 and the scenes are laid at the Ocean House and in Virginia near Arlington. "The Carlists" is a well written chapter of Spanish history of peculiar interest at the present time. "A Feast of Blood" is an entertaining description of German student duelling.

SCRIBNER'S for September has a fair proportion of light and summary, and solid and substantial fare. Bret Harte's new story, "An Episode of Fiddletown," is continued, with his usual strength; there is a story about "Beam, the Cornet Player;" an illustrated "Cruise among the Azores;" a profusely pictured and very suggestive article on the New York "Central Park;" a delightful illustrated paper on "The Birds of the Poets," by John Burroughs; a curious "Study" of Japanese fans, by Noah Brooks; Whitelaw Reid's Commencement Address on "The Scholar in Politics;" the second of Blauvelt's important papers on "Modern Skepticism;" a reply to the recent article on "The Liberty of Protestantism;" a portrait and biography of Edward Eggleston, author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster;" and the usual quantity of poetry.

Dr. Holland, the editor, gives us another installment of "Arthur Bonnicastle," and the following "Topics of the Time:" The Outlook, The New York Board of Education, Ownership in Women, and the Liberty of Protestantism. The Old Cabinet talks about the People who get under other people's umbrellas, etc. "Home and Society," "Culture and Progress," "Nature and Science," and Etchings are as usual diversified and interesting.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE for September contains probably a greater variety of interesting and entertaining matter than was ever included within the covers of a single number of any magazine. It contains twenty-two articles besides the five Editorial Departments. Of these, seven are illustrated, if we include the article in the Drawer on London Street Luxuries.

A second paper is contributed by Colonel Audenried, describing General Sherman's tour in Europe and the East. The illustrations relate to Ephesus and Constantinople, and are in the very best style of art.

Moncure D. Conway contributes some very interesting reminiscences of John Stuart Mill, whose portrait accompanies the article.

Charles Nordhoff concludes his description of the Sandwich Islands, coming to the conclusion that the United States would gain nothing by their acquisition. His article which is profusely illustrated, treats exhaustively of the agricultural resources of the islands, and gives some very picturesque sketches of the character and habits of the natives.

Great as is the variety of miscellaneous articles in this number, it is equally rich in stories. Charles Reade's novel, "A Simpleton," approaches its conclusion. Rose Terry contributes a thrilling love-story, called "Number Two." Miss Constant F. Woolson gives an amusing sketch of a hunt for "The Bones of our Ancestors;" and a very humorous story, "That Bull-Pup," is contributed by C. P. Cranch.

Dr. Samuel Osgood, in the Easy Chair, discusses with grace and spirit some of the vital questions concerning the culture of our young men, and the co-education of the sexes, and pays an appropriate tribute to the memory of our distinguished sculptor, Hiram Powers. The Scientific Record, besides numerous specific articles, gives a very valuable summary of Scientific Progress. The other editorial departments are well sustained, the Drawer especially showing an increased vivacity.

THE PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL for September, now on our table, must be pronounced by every reader a capital number. It contains over twenty set articles; besides shorter papers; among them being Hiram Powers, with portrait; Extraordinary Scientific Discovery; Living Pluto Life; Dr. Horatius Bonar, with portrait; Laughter, illustrated; Sketches from Real Life, No. 4, illustrated; Good Behavior—which everybody should read; Prof. J. M. Kieffer, with portrait; Mary Lee's Dream, a story for Teachers; Over-training; Curiosities of Abstinence; Local Option, or The Temperance Experiment at Vineland; Dr. Wilder's Wit and Wisdom; From Cheboygan to Mackinaw on Ice; The Chinese Wheelbarrow, illustrated; John T. Gordon, a Murderer, with portrait, etc.

HEARTH AND HOME for August 30, begins with a full page picture of a scene in front of the Horse Guards, London. There are several other fine pictures and the reading matter is fully up to the usual high standard.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY is determined in the domains of art and belles lettres to keep ahead of all competitors. To the September number Henry W. Longfellow contributes a poem entitled "The Rhyme of Sir Christopher." Oliver Wendell Holmes's "Poem served to order" has already been reprinted by us. Robert Dale Owen contributes a valuable paper on his experience in community life. W. J. Hoppin gives No. 11 of his glimpses of contemporary art in Europe.

J. W. De Forest continues "Honest John Vane." James Parton treats of Jefferson's chief measures, "Gunnar, a Norse Romance" is continued. "Recent Literature" contains notices of several late publications, and in the departments of art and music this number is as interesting as usual.

English Farming in America.

T. Whitaker, in the New England Farmer, says, I am trying to farm after the English pattern. I am feeding my cows highly, in order to have good manure, and am manuring highly in order to have productive soil. I have found that it is much better to seed down with grass in the fall than in the spring. Last fall I had about an acre and a half seeded down, and flat turnips sown at the same time, after taking from one part a crop of oat fodder, and from one part early potatoes. I obtained over two hundred bushels of turnips, and the grass is now looking splendid. I seeded last spring with barley, and cut it for fodder. The clover looks well, but the past dry season affected my spring seeding very much; when the clover was spent the herdsgrass and red-top did not show so well as they ought to have done.

I find, too, that it is much better to restrict the range of milch cows, and cut their feed, than to let them ramble miles in quest of food, although I am not entirely committed to the strict system of soiling. I have a hillside, which is too steep to cultivate. My cows have the range of this hillside, probably four acres. On the balance I raise rye for early spring feeding; next my oats come in, and after them fodder corn, then my second crop of grass. And it is August before my cows get much grass, except what they get on the hillside. I find that oats or barley, cut green and cured the same as hay, makes excellent fodder in winter. My cows eat it as well as the best hay, and give as much milk from it.

The question has been asked how to farm without manure. As well ask a weaver how to make cloth without warp and felt. I look upon my cows as machinery for the manufacture of milk and manure. I expect my pigs to manufacture pork and manure; and my land, also, is a machine for manufacturing manure into corn, peas, beans, oats, barley and grass; all of which articles are again resolved back into manure, by the stock on the place. To increase the amount of manure I keep more animals on the place than I produce feed for; so I levy upon the West for shorts, linseed meal and corn meal; I also levy on my neighbors for some English hay for feed, though I hope another year to produce nearly all I want. I also purchase meadow hay for bedding.

Thus I obtain from my neighbors the elements of fertility for making my land more productive. Who is the wisest—they for selling the best parts of their farm, or I for buying—time alone can determine. The returns of neither one year nor two can settle the question; nothing less than a series of years can completely set at rest such a question. But we can determine so much, however, that I am getting at the rate of a ton of hay to the acre, where three years ago I obtained nothing but moss and hardhack; and in those three years I have obtained large crops of fodder corn, rye and oats.

The crop reports from Arkansas are very flattering, except in Independence County. The late rains have brought out the corn and cotton finely. Reports from Mississippi are conflicting but in the main are more favorable than heretofore. Some sections which have suffered from drouth are now deluged with rain. In West Tennessee the fine rains of the past have proved beneficial, and planters are sanguine of good crops.

Thus far during the month the French government has suppressed or forbidden the sale of twenty republican newspapers in the province. The leaders of the Left intend to publish a protest against these suppressions, and to question the government on the subject when the Assembly meets.

—Francis Stanhope will sell at auction on Friday and Saturday of this week a large and fine assortment of chromos. The sale will occur at No. 6 Broad street.

—Gen. Burdick and staff arrived home last evening. They report a very enjoyable visit. They were met by the officers of the Newport Light Infantry upon their arrival.

—The surf at the beach this morning was fine, and the number of bathers large. The tide and temperature of the water were very comfortable.

Just as we were going to press the yachts returned from their race to Block Island. The Madeleine came in first, Tidal Wave, second, and Alarm third.

—A writer in Harper's Weekly says that "one blackened beam still stretches from wall to wall" of the Old Stone Mill but we fail to see it.

—We wonder why the proprietors of the beach franchise have never placed a plank walk in front of the bathing houses. It would be a vast improvement in that locality.

—Mr. Brewster, of the Perry House, caught sixty scup yesterday afternoon back of Fort Adams. Many of them he brought in two at a time. This is good argument against the opposition to seining by the hook and line men.

—The thirty-five pound howitzers on the parapet at Fort Adams are to be condemned, and their places supplied by ten inch Rodman guns. The mortar battery is also being thoroughly renovated inside and outside and supplied with a new armament.

The yachts got off today with a fine southeast wind. The race is from Fort Adams to Block Island and back, with time allowance, for two cups presented by Commodore Bennett for schooners and sloops.

Among the notables at the Ocean House, is Mr. Saul Isaac Campbell, of the Jewish firm of S. I. Campbell & Co., of London, England, who we understand, is here for the purpose of prosecuting a claim before the Anglo-American Commission.

Two little girls played on the zitta in the reading room of the United States Hotel last evening. Many listeners were in the room and the street in the vicinity of the house was well filled with people.

Harpers Weekly for August 30 has a supplement with a double page bird's eye view of Newport. It is valuable and every body should have it. It can be obtained at Tilley's.

A brilliant party was given last evening by Mrs. Jacob Little at her residence in Greenough Place. The floral decorations were fine and were furnished by Smith and Butler of this city.

—It is found necessary to repair the jail. Too bad! We had hoped that we were gradually becoming so good that we should finally have no need of the building and that it would be allowed to fall into decay.

—A correspondent at the mountains reports the themometer at 11° in the sun and greets us from among the clouds. Things are high in more than one sense,—postal cards for instance, three cents each!

—The Knights of St. Patrick with the Redwood band started at eleven o'clock today for an excursion to Rocky Point, and the Jane Moseley carried the Newport band and a number of excursionists to Greenport at ten o'clock.

—The gig races yesterday were won by the crews of the Resolute and the Vision, the former in the four and the latter in the two oared class. A purse of $95 was raised for the prizes, of which the Resolute gets two thirds, and the Vision the remainder.

Miss Virginia Vaughan had a good audience today at the Unitarian church on the occasion of her delivery of her lecture on Indian Epics. Those present were delighted with the lecture, and at some subsequent day, to be announced hereafter, Miss Vaughan will deliver a lecture on Persian poetry.

We are informed that the match race between the Tidal Wave and the Madgie is "off." The former holds the prize, but on account of some personal feeling existing will give it up and consequently, unless the matter is settled, the Madgie will claim it, she challenging the Tidal Wave.

Art Notes.

The successful artist, Frank H. Smith, of Boston, at present residing at Bristol Ferry, has made many beautiful sketches of the surrounding country, which will contribute much to his already well earned reputation.

Among those worthy of special notice may be mentioned "The Bay at Sunset," a really delicious landscape. You can almost feel the evening breeze, and enjoy the quiet of the fading light; while in another portion of the picture the rich coloring of a Newport sun, in all its dying glories, freshens thought and revives the memory of Italian Skies.

Mr. Smith's portrait of two oxen yoked to a farm cart, and looking almost at you, is a triumph over nature. Their anatomy is good and a ruddy glow surrounds them with an atmosphere of health, while their giant proportions are portrayed with all the strength of coloring.

We were favored with a view of a sort of "stone sheepfold," which, for all the world, might have been taken from many a scene in Normandy, or in the depths of Holbein's country, so unlike was it to anything American, so foreign all its treatment; and yet anyone can find the exact spot, by walking but a few rods from the hotel.

There is a rich dash, to be distinguished from haste, in all Mr. Smith's paintings, that gives them character without in the least, or sacrificing of any of the subdued tints.

It is evident, from a review of these merits that the artist first selected a particular scene because of its effect on him, and then, after having fully felt the landscape, he endeavored to impress on canvas the conscience of his easel.

Such men, must, of necessity, succeed, for they first educate themselves and then merely give out the filtred purity of what has passed through the alembic of their brain

AN APPEAL.—The managers of the Home for Friendless Children beg leave to make the following statement to the friends of their institution: In order to provide for an addition to the building, which has become indispensable, the sum of $3,000 is requisite. A donation of $1,000, and another of $500 have been promised by kind friends, whenever an equal amount of $1,500 shall be made up. Of this sum only $352 have yet been contributed from other sources, leaving $1,148 still wanting. The managers venture upon this special appeal to kind friends, whose liberality has made the Home successful, earnestly soliciting their influence in procuring immediate assistance, to enable them to profit by these generous offers. Contributions will be most thankfully received, and may be sent to Mrs. George Bowen, Pelham Street; Mrs. George H. Thorndike, Clarke Street; Mrs. Wm. C. Cozzens, Thames Street; Mrs. S. Abbott Lawrence, Mill Street.

City of Rochester 7 per Cent. Bonds.

The city of Rochester, the bonds of which are offered by Robinson, Chase & Co., in these columns, is one of the most thriving and prosperous in the United States, and few others so abound in resources which promise increased advancement and wealth. It has a population of over 75,000 inhabitants, and is the centre of trade to 500,000 residents of the surrounding counties. The value of merchandise shipped into and out of the city for the year 1872 amounted to over $60,000,000.

The actual valuation of its real estate is $70,000,000, while its assessed value is but $44,000,000; which, compared with previous statistics, shows in both property and population nearly a four-fold increase during the last 20 years.

Its total indebtedness, including all bonds outstanding and to be issued, exclusive of this present loan, is $1,858,386.

Its assets are as follows: real estate, etc., viz.: school houses, city hall, free academy, public squares, parks, steam fire engines, etc. $1,373,000.

Sundry available cash assets, $990,500—$2,363,500.

According to the census of 1870, there are more persons in Rochester owning their own residences than in any other city in the United States, and, with but one exception, fewer persons dwelling in each house.

SEASONINGS.

The pranks of the children at Long Branch have awakened the indignation of a correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, who thinks that if the old nursery rhyme be true, the Prince of Darkness must be busy during the summer devising pastimes for them. He says: "Nice little boys and girls trundle tin wagons up and down the piazzas, pound the floors with croquet-mallets, shy croquet-balls at each other's heads, and hit each other on tender and accessible points with their toy whips, thus producing a series of loud roars to add to the general confusion, while the babies in arms look on and add their shrieks to heighten the general effect."

Mrs. T. Houston West, the vocalist, is stopping at Old Orchard Beach.

Gibraltar, Jay Cooke's island, is known as Saint's Rest among the natives of the country round about.

A disease with a thousand symptoms. Dyspepsia is the most perplexing of all human ailments. Its symptoms are almost infinite in their variety, and the forlorn and despondent victims of the disease often fancy themselves the prey, in turn, of every known malady. This is due, in part, to the close sympathy which exists between the stomach and the brain, and in part, also, to the fact that any disturbance of the digestive functions necessarily disorders the liver, the bowels and the nervous system, and affects to some extent, the quality of the blood. A medicine that, like Hostetter's Bitters, not only tones the stomach but at the same time controls the liver, produces a regular habit of body, braces the nerves, purifies the fluids and "ministers to a mind diseased," is therefore the true and only specific for chronic indigestion. Such is the operation of this famous vegetable restorative. It not only cures dyspepsia, but also all concomitants and consequences. Moreover, it is invaluable as a preventive of indigestion. No one who chooses to take half a wineglassful of this agreeable appetizer and stomachic habitually three times a day will be troubled with oppression after eating, nausea, sour eructations, or any other indications of a want of vigor in the digestive and assimilating organs. The debility and languor superinduced by hot weather are immediately and permanently relieved by the Bitters, and persons who are constitutionally inclined to look upon life "as through a glass, darkly," will be apt to take a brighter and more hopeful view of the situation under the genial influence of this wholesome medicinal stimulant.

For Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Depression of Spirits and General Debility, in their various forms, FERRO-PHOSPHORATED ELIXIR OF CALISAYA made by CASWELL, HAZARD & CO., New York, and sold by all druggists, is the best tonic. As a stimulant tonic for patients recovering from fever or other sickness it has no equal. If taken during the season it prevents fever and ague and other intermittent fevers. au9-4w

LABOR-SAVING MACHINES.—Of the many household labor-saving machines offered from time to time, none are more deserving of public attention and earnest consideration, or that promises such sure and lasting relief to the hard worked washer woman, than the "Ferguson Washer." Simple in construction, easy of management, devoid of machinery, it will not injure a single thread of any fabric, and can be worked by any child twelve years old; will do in a thorough manner, any ordinary family washing in two hours. Possessing these undisputed qualities, the Company in order to prove their integrity in the matter, guarantee entire satisfaction or a return of the purchase money to the buyer.

Without a Sprinkling, so to speak, of some delicate perfume, no lady's toilet is complete, and we feel assured that in this respect the new and delightful handkerchief extracts manufactured by Messrs. Colgate & Co. will take the lead; for not only are they the sweetest, but most lasting perfume that has yet appeared before the public.

Dyspepsia is a Hydra-Headed Monster, from which nearly all "the ills the human flesh is heir to" originate. The Peruvian Syrup, a protected solution of the protoxide of Iron, is a long tried and well established remedy for this distressing complaint; it has cured thousands when other remedies have failed.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 21, 1873.

GENERAL NEWS.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 20.—The proceedings of the Military Commission which tried the Modocs, were today to be returned to the Secretary of War by Judge Advocate General Holt, he having completed his review, and it is understood approved the findings of the Court. These will be transmitted to President Grant tomorrow.

New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Mr. Trowe, Brooklyn correspondent of the New York Times, and George T. Keiller, of the Brooklyn Union, went to bathe at Centre Moriches, Long Island, yesterday, and both were carried out to sea and drowned. The bodies not yet recovered.

LEVY ON THE CITY.

The sheriff made a levy on the pictures in the governor's room, furniture in the comptroller's office, and the fire engine in Chambers street, to satisfy a judgment obtained by Judge Fowler against the city about a year ago, for $10,000, being salary claimed by him as Judge of the Third District Court. The seizures caused some excitement among the politicians at City Hall. It is alleged that Fowler owes the city some $20,000.

MAN'S INHUMANITY TO BOYS.

Vincenzo Motto, an Italian padrone, charged with keeping Italian children in a state of illegal servitude, was arraigned in the United States District Court today, before Commissioner Osborne, for trial. Three Italian boys were successively placed on the stand, and told the story of their kidnapping and subsequent bondage: how they were learned to play the violin; sent out daily, being ordered to bring in a certain sum. If they failed to do so they were subjected to the greatest cruelties Motto could perpetrate. He starved them, bit them, beat them, kicked them, and tied them up in a filthy cellar over night. The case excites great interest among the Italians here, and will be continued tomorrow.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 20.—A fire this morning in Daniel Nestle's block, corner of West Jefferson street and Broadway, occupied by A. Clarke's drug store; Keil & McKenzie's dry goods store; and Christshingle's boot and shoe store, destroyed the whole block with contents, the firemen with great difficulty preventing the conflagration extending to surrounding property. Loss estimated at $15,000. Incendiary.

Miscellaneous.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 20.—The first race today was for a purse of $6,000 for horses which have never beaten 2.21; $3,000 to first, $1,600 to second, $800 to third, $600 to fourth. The following is a summary:

BURLINGTON, Vt., August 20.—President Grant and party, accompanied by ex-Governor Stearns of New Hampshire and wife, arrived here by special train from the Twin Mountain House at 7:20 this morning. The President was received at the station by Mayor Dodge and General Wells, Foster and Henry of the citizens' committee of arrangements, and driven to the American Hotel, where he breakfasted in company with Mayor Dodge, Judge Smalley, Governor Underwood, Lieutenant-Governor Taft, Mayor Buffum of Lynn, Mass., General Barstow, E J Phelps, the Hon. J D Hatch and other prominent gentlemen. The party then rode into the city, visiting the Ethan Allan monument and other points of interest.

On returning to the hotel the President was greeted with a federal salute, when he held a reception in the parlors, and a large number of citizens as well as ladies and children shook hands with him. The first regiment national guard of Vermont, Colonel Peck commanding, which went into camp today at Essex Junction, massed before the hotel and paid the President the compliment of a marching salute, after which, headed by the Queen City band, it escorted him to the wharf, where he took the steamer Adirondack, amid enthusiastic cheers from the crowd, for Ticonderoga and Lake George. United States Judge Benedict of Brooklyn, N. Y., Lieutenant Governor Taft and the Hon. G. G. Benedict of this city accompanied the party on their trip up Lake Champlain. The President never looked better and was evidently pleased with the reception, which, though hearty, was not irksome.

MADRID, August 20.—It is announced that Senor Castelar will shortly leave this city on a mission to London, Berlin, Vienna and St. Petersburg, to request of those governments an official recognition of the Spanish Republic.

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 20.—The Board of Health reports 307 deaths for the week ending August 19th. There were three deaths from Asiatic cholera, ninety-nine from cholera infantum, and twenty-five from cholera morbus.

NEWS ITEMS.

Fall River has voted to take 1,500,000 gallons of water a day.

The Spanish Consuls in France complain of the tolerance of the French authorities on the frontier toward the Carlists.

In the dispatch of the 17th inst. the Carlist infantry force in Spain was, by a clerical error, stated to be 2,600 men. It should be 26,000 men.

On Tuesday, Sept. 2, the Victory Column in the Koenigplatz, Berlin, will be uncovered with appropriate ceremonies. The military display will be extensive and very grand.

Brown-tinted note paper is now the fashion in London. The note sheet is cut in legal shape, and turns at the top instead of at the side. The novelty will soon be in rage here.

It is stated that the opponents of the present national banking system will receive in the next congress the proposition first suggested by Gen. Butler, of withdrawing the bonds which are the basis of the circulation in order to save the interest thereon, and to issue legal tenders in their stead.

Chicago's new directory catalogues 212 churches, 80 newspapers, 31 railroad companies, and names enough to form an "estimated" population of 465,170.

"Melanocracy" and "Leucocracy" are suggested by a correspondent of an Alabama paper as the proper titles for the "black man's party" and "white man's party" respectively.

The delay in the choice of a seal lock for Custom use is solely owing to the fact that of the locks presented two are so nearly equal in point of suitability and cheapness that the officers are reluctant to concede to either of these two superiority over other.

"From private letters received here," says the German News (Berlin) of July 29 "it appears that at Paris there is general fear of a Bonapartist coup d' etat during the adjournment of the National Assembly. The Bonapartists are said to be intriguing for the removal of the police prefect of Paris (M. Renaud) with a view to replace him by one of their own party."

FOR CASH.

THE MIDLAND RAILWAY is an enterprise of National importance, and the Stock and Bonds soon to be placed upon the principal Stock Exchanges, will be as freely dealt in as are those of the New York Central, Erie, and Pennsylvania Central Railroad Companies. Five hundred and eighty-eight miles of its railroad are now completed and in operation. Continuous trains are running from New York to Oswego, and on the Western Extension, towards Buffalo, the Company is running trains 85 miles; the remainder of the distance, 120 miles, to Buffalo, is in course of rapid construction, and it will be completed within one year. The New York and Oswego Midland Railway will be one of the most profitable Trunk Lines running out of New York.

We confidently believe that Fifty Millions of Dollars will be made by the Stock and Bond holders in this road within a few years by the rise in the value of the property. The selling value of the Stock and Bonds of the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad is over........	$168,000,000

The selling value of the Stock and Bonds of the Midland Railway Companies, including sufficient to complete single track to Buffalo, and double track East of Middletown, is	$31,000,000
Saving over the Central route....	70 miles.
Saving over the Erie route.......	38 miles.

This difference of distance in favor of the Midland route must always enable it to compete with the other lines advantageously as to freight, and ought to give it a larger share of the passengers than any other line. The early completion of the Western Extension, from Scipio Centre to Buffalo, is ensured by the subscriptions of capitalists to a syndicate formed to purchase $5,000,000 of Bonds from the Company. The syndicate has guaranteed to advance further means, if wanted, to complete this Road. We offer for a short time, New York and Oswego Midland Railway Co.'s First Mortgage seven per cent. Gold Bonds, Western Extension, at 87 1-2 and accrued interest in currency.

We are sole agents for selling Jersey City & Albany Railroad Company's 7 per cent. Gold Bonds at 90 and interest in currency. This road is now in operation from Jersey City to Tappantown, a distance of twenty four miles. Nine miles further are graded, on which iron is being laid. The road will be completed to Haverstraw within a year. These Bonds are only issued on COMPLETED ROAD.

A speciality will be made of the Stock and Bonds of the following Companies: New York & Oswego Midland Railway Company, New Jersey Midland Railway Company, Montclair Railway Company, and Jersey City & Albany Railroad Company. We have now on hand a limited supply of these Bonds.

All Bonds and Stocks known in this market will be bought and sold, for cash, on orders for investors or dealers. We Solicit Permanent Correspondents and Agents for the sale of these Bonds.

Chemistry and Agriculture.

It is manifestly an error to suppose that the service which chemistry is capable of performing for agriculture is mainly confined to soil analysis. This is the most uncertain and perplexing work which the chemist is called to perform, and we may add, the practical difficulties are so great in the work that the results are usually not very satisfactory. Let us examine these difficulties for a moment, or endeavor to bring them more directly to the attention. If a given soil is valuable from the amount of nitrogen, phosphoric acid, and potash which it contains, it is important that the amounts should be accurately ascertained. Now good, arable, fertile soils will usually contain only perhaps two thousandths of their dry weight of the two first of these substances, and about double the quantity of potash. It is evident the fertilizing principles are present only as mere traces, but if analysis is worth anything it must detect and correctly weigh them.

The work must be done with the utmost accuracy, as any small fractions of error are of immense importance when the contents of a whole field are taken into account. Difficult and delicate as is the labor, it is quite within the power of the chemist to correctly determine the amounts of these agents existing in soils. If chemistry had no more difficult service to perform we would not complain, but the condition of these elements, or their availability, is a point of great importance and one almost or quite impossible to confidently settle. The value for a soil for growing crops depends in a great measure upon the condition in which the phosphoric acid, nitrogen, etc., exist in it, and if it cannot be positively shown what that condition is, we do not obtain satisfactory results.

When the chemist has estimated correctly the amount of the most important fertilizing principles in the covering of an acre of ground, nine inches deep, he has acquired but a part of the information needed to enable him to give an opinion of positive value regarding its crop-bearing capabilities. There are also other points of importance connected with the physical condition of soils which chemistry fails to shed much light upon. There can be no doubt whatever that some soils have the capabilities of appropriating more atmospheric nitrogen than others, and also, the decomposition of some of the constituents of soils renders them physically better qualified to promote plant growths at one time than another. All these considerations should not, however, tend to destroy our confidence in the general aid which chemistry is capable of affording us; they are only calculated to make us cautious, and place a proper estimate upon the help it supplies. "I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

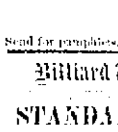

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." Diamond Spectacles.

TRADE MARK

THESE SPECTACLES are manufactured from "MINUTE CRYSTAL PEBBLES" melted together, and are called Diamond on account of their hardness and brilliancy. It is well known that spectacles cut from Brazilian or Scotch pebbles are very injurious to the eyes, because of their polarizing light. Having been tested with the polariscope, the diamond lenses have been found to admit fifteen per cent. less heated rays than any other pebble. They are ground with great scientific accuracy, are free from chromatic aberration and produce a brightness and distinctness of vision not before attained in spectacles.

Manufactured by the Spencer Optical Manufacturing Company, New York. For sale by responsible agents in every city in the Union. H. A. HEATH & CO., Jewelers and Opticians, are sole Agents for Newport, R. I., from whom they can only be obtained. No peddlers employed. Do not buy any unless you see the trade mark. ap

Is the most powerful cleanser, strengthener and remover of Glandular Obstructions known to Materia Medica.

It is specially adapted to constitutions "worn down" and debilitated by the warm weather of Spring and Summer, when the blood is not in active circulation, consequently gathering impurities from sluggishness and imperfect action of the secretive organs, and is manifested by Tumors, Eruptions, Blotches, Boils, Pustules, Scrofula, &c., &c.

When weary and languid from overwork, and dullness, drowsiness and inertia take the place of energy and vigor, the system needs a Tonic to build it up and help the Vital Forces to regain their recuperative power.

In the heat of Summer, frequently the Liver and Spleen do not properly perform their functions; the Uterine and Urinary Organs are inactive, producing weakness of the stomach and intestines and a predisposition to bilious derangement.

DR. WELLS'

EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

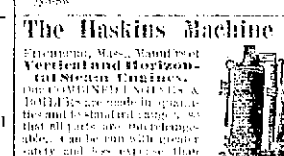

Is prepared directly from the SOUTH AMERICAN PLANT, and is peculiarly suited to all these difficulties; it will cleanse the VITIATED BLOOD, strengthen the LIFE GIVING POWERS, and REMOVE ALL OBSTRUCTIONS from IMPAIRED AND ENFEEBLED Organs.

It should be freely taken, as Jurubeba is pronounced by medical writers the most efficient PURIFIER, TONIC and DEOBSTRUENT known in the whole range of medicinal plants.

NOTICE.

A prominent New York physician lately complained to DUNDAS DICK, about his SANDALWOOD OIL CAPSULES, stating that sometimes they cured miraculously, but that a patient of his had taken them without effect. On being informed that several imitations were sold he inquired and found his patient had not been taking DUNDAS DICK & CO'S.

What happened to this physician may have happened to others, and DUNDAS DICK & CO. take this method of protecting physicians, druggists and themselves, and preventing OIL OF SANDALWOOD from coming into disrepute.

PHYSICIANS who once prescribe the Capsules will continue to do so, for they contain the pure oil in the best and cheapest form.

DUNDAS DICK & CO. use more OIL OF SANDALWOOD than all the Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Perfumers in the U. S. combined, and this is the sole reason why the pure Oil is sold cheaper in their Capsules than in any other form.

OIL OF SANDALWOOD is fast superseding every other remedy, sixty Capsules only being required to insure a safe and certain cure in six or eight days. From no other medicine can this result be had.

Dick's Soft Capsules solve the problem long considered by eminent physicians, of how to avoid the nausea and disgust experienced in swallowing, which are well known to detract from, if not destroy, the good effects of many valuable remedies.

Soft Capsules are put up in tin-foil and neat boxes, thirty in each, and are the only Capsules prescribed by Physicians.

TASTE-LESS Medicines. Castor Oil and many other nauseous medicines can be taken easily and safely in DUNDAS DICK & CO'S SOFT CAPSULES. No Taste. No Smell.

These were the only Capsules admitted to the last Paris Exposition.

Iron in the Blood

PERUVIAN AN IRON TONIC SYRUP

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.
